Due to the language used in the ad, I believed the ad was for prostitution services so I contacted the phone number listed in the ad via text message. The following are screenshots of the text message conversation I had with the suspect at the phone number provided in the ad:

Upon speaking to the suspect on the phone, she told me she would be on the south side of Fort Smith at an apartment near Planters Peanuts. However, in my subsequent conversation with her, she told me there was a change of plans and that she was getting a room at the Seasons Inn and asked that I meet her there. During our conversation, she asked where I worked and if I was with the police. I told her I was employed by Schlumberger, so she asked if that was the "blue one or the red one." I told her it was the blue one and she said ok.

After the suspect provided the room number to me, I advised my cover team that I was going to her room. Upon arrival, I exited my vehicle and knocked on the door of room 125. A short time later, a white female, later identified as [REDACTED] opened the door and invited me inside. Once inside, I asked the suspect if I could use the restroom to wash my hands. She said I could and actually brought me some body wash to use because my hands were very dirty. After washing my hands, I emerged from the restroom and began a conversation with her. She seemed to still be suspicious of me and began asking me questions about where I worked. I fabricated a story about working for a oil and gas company and she seemed to believe me. I then told her I didn't have much time and asked how she wanted to do "this". She then asked me to "get comfortable", which is a phrase commonly used by prostitutes when asking Johns to get naked. This is done usually to "prove" they're not a cop, so I began disrobing. As I was taking my pants off, I looked at [REDACTED] and asked if she was going to get comfortable as well, so she took her shirt off. After I had disrobed, she asked me to lie down on the bed. I asked if she wanted me to lay on my stomach or my back and she told me either would be fine. So, since her ad had stated she gave the "best massage", I chose to lie on my stomach so she would need to ask me to turn over if, in fact, there would be any sex involved with her massage.

She immediately began rubbing my back very gently, but not in a manner I would associate with a traditional massage. I then asked if she had any massage oil and she said no, but she usually has some. Then, she went into the restroom and retrieved a bottle of Green brand body lotion and began rubbing that on my back. A very short time later, she asked if I wanted her to "do my front" so I turned over. When I turned over, I noticed she had placed a Trojan Ecstasy condom on the bed next to her. Then, she began rubbing on my chest and worked her way down to my hips. Then, without warning, she began fondling my penis. Then, she stopped, applied more lotion to her hands and asked if I would mind if she put some lotion on it. When I said no, she began masturbating me so I immediately grabbed her hand and identified myself as a police officer. I then told her she was under arrest and began putting my clothes back on. At that point, my cover team arrived at the doors to the room and were allowed inside to complete the arrest and paperwork.

My contact with [REDACTED] in the room was audio recorded, as were my phone conversations with her. The audio recordings, condom, lotion and [REDACTED] cell phone were seized and submitted into evidence under 00060691, 00060692 and the 00060693 respectively.
